

The Occupational Safety and Health Council's Best Project Award – Dr Yi Wen, BRE PhD Graduate

Dr Wen Yi was honored at the Best Project Award Prize Presentation Ceremony organized by the Occupational Safety and Health Council on 4 Feb 2015. A recent PhD graduate of the Department of Building and Real Estate, Dr Yi Wen received the Best Project Award 2014 for her project "Modeling Rebar Labor Productivity in Hot Weather," in which a set of good practices and indices to ensure the health and safety of site personnel working in hot weather was developed. Her PhD thesis of the same title was supervised by Prof. Albert Chan. Moreover, Dr Wen Yi was selected as one of the Occupational Safety and Health (OSH) Research Student Scholarship 2012 winners under the category of Postgraduate Degree Programme by OSHC. The Scholarship is conferred in recognition of the successful completion of the research project and dissertation report of those outstanding research students in Hong Kong.

From left to right:

Professor Choi Yin-fat (Chairman of Selection Panel), Dr Wen Yi, Professor Albert P.C. Chan